Political Work for To-day. THE second and final meeting of the Boards of Registry, for correcting and revising the lists, will be held to-day and to-morrow in cities, and to-day alone throughout the rest of the State. They will meet as before, at the places for holding the polls, at eight o'clock in the morning, and remain in session, without recess, until nine o'clock in the evening. At this second meeting of the Boards any elector, in the district where he resides may, if unchallenged, have his name added to the list. If challenged, he will be required to take the same oaths as those required by the former election laws, in cases of challenge

The impression that the law is ill-defined. bunglingly constructed, and calculated to obatruct rather than facilitate legal voting, is gaining gound dally among men of all parties. It is locked upon as a dismal farce, which will not entitle its originators to any enviable fame, but still, so long as it remains a law, its provisions, so far as their meaning can be ascertained, must be carried out, and voters had better submit to the trouble and expense of getting their names registered to-day, than to wait and go through the tedious formality which will be required to put en unregistered voter's ballot in the box.

The Zurich Conference.

Our last advices from Europe state that on the 17th October, a treaty of peace was concluded at Zurich, between France and Austria Such a result had not been antic pated, from the tenor of previous advices. On the contrary, it was generally believed that a more terrible struggle than any which had yet taken place, shared by the prudent and really conservative people of the North and West. Extracaists of all kinds will turn their backs, and cast their lime upon him, but his doctrine will only shine the brighter, and receive more and more the endorsement of the entire North. The report. er's monuscript has already been compared with Mr. BEECHER's own notes, and to-day it will be revised by Mr. BERCHER himself, to be published in full in The Sun of to-morrow (Wodnesday) morning. Some of our neighbors pretended vesterday to give an abstract of this sermon but the pretence was too shallow. The injury to the preacher and the misrepresentation of his larguage was palpable.

---The Trial of Capt. Brown. -

SINTH DAY. Charlestown, Oct. 31 .- The Court met at nine

The prisoner was brought in, and the trial pro-Brown looks better than heret fore, and his hea'th is evidently improving. He was taid on a bed as The Court-Rouse and its approach a were densely is evidently improving. He was faid on a bell as usual.

The Court-Reuse and its approaches were densely crowded.

Mr. Gassword made the opening speech for the defence, taking up the several charges in the indictment, and replying to the pediats main in the opening argument for the presention. He alunded to the peet lear chemistances arrounding the present case, and hoped the jury would give it calm and dispassionst attention, divising their mind as far as possible from all prejudice, and disregarding entade inducedes. The prison r was entitled to an imparial that under the laws of Viginia, and let into be acquitted or convicted according to those laws and the evidence given in the case. With regard to the charge of treason being against the prisoner, Mr. Gasword magued that Baows could not be guity of treason, as he was not a citizen of this Commonwealth, and note but a clizen could a smout teason, as we have a was not a citizen of this Commonwealth, and note but a clizen could a smout teason, as we have a was not a citizen by the could not be a rotal against her authority. He was also charged with levying was against the State, but the evidence given did not support the charge. Thiste was a great difference between beying war and resisting authority. Men a corregated teacher to perpetrate crime have their rules and regularions. When assat ed they defend their laws to the uture st, sacnificing and intending to sacrifice the lives of others,—but that was resistance and not levying war. He would not shrink from the admission, and the prisoner openly admitted it, that those men came for the purpose of running away shaves. That was a crime under the laws of Virginia, for which the prisoner was amenable to punishment to the extent of the claws. In carrying out that purpose he temperatly took possession of the Arsenal at Harper's Ferry, and which was claimed to be the legal authority of Virgin's, seeking to arrest those men assembled on violation of the law. Such things have often happened. Jails have been brideen o is said there was an organized movement. A pamphict is referred to as evidence of that fact, but it does not accessarily follow that the overthrow of the commonwealth of Virginia was contemplated by enything that appeared in that book. The most harmless organizations in the country have been created with all the outside forms and machinery of Government in debating societies governments have been established, a Congress accredited, resolutions and laws discussed, and any one reading the bulk tins of those associations, and knowing nothing about them, would suppose them ministure governments. No matter not sufficient. Such as the purpose them ministure governments. No matter not sufficient. Such as the purpose them the finite of the existing governments. No matter not sufficient. Such as of robbers and desperadoes have their rule and regulations, their officers, and prescribe death as the purpose that for the violation of their laws; but that does not imply that they entimed the such as the purpose of the purpose of the such as the purpose of the violation of their laws; but that does not imply that they entimed in the such as the purpose of the violation of their laws; but that does not imply that they entimed in the such as the purpose of the violation of their laws; but that does not imply that they entimed in the such as the such as the purpose of the violation of the violat

the general or State Government; but simply the repeal of obrexicus iswa in the Government. The learned attorney, who opened the case, seem at a setup, this ground entirely, not even ging nor to the evidence, to show wherein this to soon was proved, said the prisoner was guilty of giving aid and comfort to the enemies of the Commonweath, and that was the only specification he made charging toe defendant with treasen. He was surprised to hear that gentleman burst forth in such a sublime apostrophe to freedom, in terms and language, and with action of such surpassing eloquence, that no one need be told, he received in the land that was the sakes of Parmon Harray. He almed also to the distinguished associate for the proceeding, who had brought into his remarks the dishevelled treases of frightened beauty. He then proceeded to discuss the charge of conspiring with slaves, and said there was a manifest distinction between the effort to run off slaves or steal slaves, and conspiring to induce them to robot. Health of the surpart of the same and insurrection was rising up, not to run say, although freedom might be the ultimate object and insurrection. The question was, as to the object and intention. Has any manutest less supit young to show that Heaven, or any one with him, said or did one thing to induce any slaves to rise in rebellion, er perpetrie any offence out of which rebellion grows? Saves were taken possession of for a temporary purpose, and placed in the Arsenal; but Colonel Washingtons, who knew more about than any other witness, testified that not a slave to the part in the unatter, except Pun, who, at the sug estion of the princer, attempted to define a per hole, and that was not done for the purpose of insurrection and rebellion, but to poster themselves. True, they were engaged in an unlawful the suggestion of the prisoner, attempted to drill a port hole, and that was not done for the purpose of insurrection and rebellion, but to protect themselves. True, they were engaged in an unlawful act, but not the act charged. They were smenable to punishment, but not as they are indicted. Dust ensures they are punishmels in some ways, but not as its charged. He here proceeded to consider the count charging a under in the first degree. This was a crime involving promeditated murder, but he around that to such malice has been shown. First, lies wood was killed; how it happened, nobedy knows; It was done in the dark, and whether seel-dontal or intentional, does not appear in evidence, or by whom. Porhaps these men are guilly of that lilling in some form, but it in not proved to be murder in the first degree, from deliberate, premeditate to malice. He would only say as Gapt. Brown said to him, it why should we show a negro? that was not our object." He did not justify these roen in staying those and resisting the authority of the country, hust, he said, they were there protecting themselves from arret. Guns were fired in all directions, and they fired or intended to fire only on armed men.

Without excending that conduct for one moment, he would remark that it refused the tides of premeditate of makes, they had not the time for thought and instruction which the law contemplates. Not that he would say three non-should be allowed to she withing the Commonweal to eViginia, perpendical.

was generally believed that a more terrible struggle than any which had yet taken paces, was near at hand, not alone in Hary, but in other parts of the continent. But the treaty has been made, and the anticipated forealed war is at an end, or at least deferred, and Europe will breathe more freely for a time. In the Congress which is to follow, it is understood that the smaller states are to be represented. Aye, but by whom will they be represented? And what heed will be given to the counsels of the representatives? Is it not likely that the great (?) Powers will suffer their wills to be the wated by the desires of the people, and hence the destroose will suffer their wills to be the wated by the desires of the people, and hence the destroose are quite as a likely to send the representatives as the Governments de facto.

Italy has more to hope from the terror with which from any fair adjustment of diliculties to grow out of the new Congress. The fear of deeper and better planned revolutions may extent concessions which would be otherwise denied, and which the Powers only intend to concede in the propose of the first clear, that he had no exception to take to a start concession which would be otherwise denied, and which the Powers only intend to concede for the state of the propose of of the pr

Mr. Churors asked the Court to instruct the jury

LEGAL REPORTS-MONDAY. Superior Court.

Superior Court.

A Cose for Precedent,—Erastus D. Thayer vs. James C. Willet.—This case is an appeal to the General Term, and the result of it will determine a great number of Sheriff causes new upon the calendar. The action was for claim and delivery of personal property. The plaintiff claimed like to the property under a bill of sale cated June 12, 1887, exceuted to him by Mason A. Perkins. The defendant by his asswer dasputed the plaintiff's title, and justified the taking and det atton under a warrant of attachment issued by him as Sheriff of the County, in favor of one Joseph Rosenthal, and an ther, against Perkins, by a justice of the Supreme Court, on the 26th of June, 1851. The answer also averred that Perkins was the owner of the property.

The plaintiff proved the bill of sale, and gave evidence lending to show that he had taken possession of the property at the time of the levy under attachment. The Court held that attaching creditors were not in a condition to question the plaintiff's title, and that that could only be done by judgment creditors. The only question in the case is whether a Sheriff acting under a warrant of attachment regularly issued in an action, pursuant to the provisions of the Court held that the Sheriff could not attach under such a facing under a warrant of attachment regularly issued in an action, pursuant to the provisions of the Court held that the Sheriff could not attach under such circumstances, and gave judgment for plaintiff. Defendant appealed, and the case was now argued and decision reserved.

Action for false Imprisonment.—Michael Fay vs. George O'Niel.—This was an action to recover 30.0.0 damages for an alleged melicious prosecution and arrest of the plaintiff by the defendant, on a charge of perjuty. It appeared from the trial of the cause, that the plaintiff had been in the employ of the defendant for several years prior to the panic of 1557; that ab ut that time, the plaintiff becoming uneasy about $180 he had in a City Bank, consulted the defendant as to what course he should take in regard to it, that the defendant advised him to draw it out, which he did, and secreted it under the carpet in the parior of the defendant, and afterwards told the sister of defendant's wife, where it was, and he alleges that Mrs. O'Niel afterwards took it out for some reason, and plaintiff did not get it again; but was told by the young lady before spoken of, that Mr. O'Niel had used it, and was perfectly "good for it," and he need not be uneasy about it.—He did not got it however, and finally brought suit, on the trial of which action, he testified to the facts herein stated, whereupon he was charged with perjury, but the charge was dismissed by Justice Quackenbush. The defendant denies all the allegations of the complaint, and alleges that the plaintiff never had so much as $180. Care still provided the complaint, and alleges that the plaintiff never had so much as $180. Care still proversed.

jury, but the charge was dismissed by Justice Quackenbush. The defendant denies all the alegations of the complaint, and alleges that the plaintiff never had so much as $180. Case still on.

New York Assignments and Jersey Property.—

Louis Guillanders vs. Howell & Birdsall.—This was an action to recover of the defendants, the value of certain parts of two steam bollers, on a contract, alleged to have been made between the assignors of the plaintiff and the defendants. The bollers in question were in Jersey City at the time the assignment was made by Boardman, Holbrock & Co., to plaintiff and, that assignment gave preferences to certain creditors, and as it appears, contrary to the statutes of New Jersey on that point.

The Court now held that as the assignment was not legal in New Jersey, property held in New Jersey could not be claimed under it. Also, that as defendants had previously obtained the property by attachment, they were entitled to it or its value, as against the plaintiff. The jury were, therefore, directed to find for the defendants.

The Water Question in the Common Council ast night, the Special Committee appointed to confer with the Water Committee are the commissioners and the city, submitted a report to which was attached the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Special Committee on the supply of water for the city, be, and are hereby empowered by and under a vice of the counsel to carry out with the Water Commissioners and contractors the transfer of the completed portion of the works to the city upon such terms and conditions as may be justified by law and be st calculated to promote the interests of the city. That in the opinion of this Common Gouncil, the Comprehence and under advice of the committed in the course pursued by him, but recommend that the proceedings be not carried further, a decision having been runforced by an eminent judge of our own courts.

After the reading of the report, a communication from the Geosphrelic was read, stating that he had, under advice of counsel, deemed it his duty to appeal from the decision of Judge Lorr, requiring him is issue Water Bonds, to the General Term, and had taken measures accordingly.

A resolution approving the changes in the water works by which a closed conduit was substituted, in place of an open canal, waslost; one in favor of transferring the water works as far as completed, to the permanent Water Board; and one in favor of a reduced schedule of water rates, were passed; one opposing any additional litigation, on the question of the constitutionality of the act of 1809, was deciared out of order. A Cold Bath for A Turner.—A German pentiemen of scrobatic turn of mind, while waiting for the boat at the Atlantic Ferry on Monday night last, about 8 o'clock, undertook to show his skill as a gyn nast on the rail of the bridge. He was going through some surprising evolutions, when affairs took a turn that surprised himself. As he was doing a somerset, and had just reached an inverted position his hands slipped, and he went head first into the water. He came up again, and was assisted above by the ferry rands, a damp and disconsolate Du'chman, all the gymnastics taken out of him, like starch out of his shirt bosom by the cold water.

The secident to Senator SLOAN, President of the Hudson River Radroad, occurred on the Cumberland Radroad, instead of the Hudson River, as was at first reported. It appears that the accommodation train on the Baltimore and Ohio Radroad, which left Wheeling on Thursday morning last, met, one mile east of Maunington, the freight train going West, the latter train being ahead of time, owing to the conductor mistaking the time he should leave one station for that of another. Both locomotives were badly smashed, as also were several of the cars.

Mr. SLOAN was rading on the engine of the passenger train, and with the engineer and firemen, jumped before the collision. Mr. SLOAN, falling among some broken stones, was severely cut and bruised, but not seriously.

An Extraordinary Sermon.

Rev. H. Ward Berguier preached, Sunday evening, a sermon which, even for that celebrated man, was an extension of the second of the sermon which have a sermon which were from the larger's ferry pine. His text was, virtually, the larger's ferry pine, though the world were from Holy Writ, sand people as few could do, the capture of two thousand people as few could do, the capture of two thousand people as few could do, the capture of two series of the second of the condemnatures which tend to seed of violence, and all between the people of the Nate and create emity South, in terms which could not but hand, those of the cars of the slaveholders themselves have pleased the particular views in relation to the Slavery question were then given at greater length, and more explicitly than they have been on any other occasion. Those who suppose that they differ entirely from Mr. Begune in sentiment on this subject, will be astonished, we will promise them, on a perusal of this sermon. To enable all such and all others, who, from curiosity, or from any other motive, desire to read a sermon of unneal merit as well as of unusual interest to the whole community, we have granged to publish a verbatim report of it, from Mr. Bescher's own notes, and under his own revision, in The Sun of Wednesday morning. ---
